

Intellectual & Developmental Disabilities Planning and Network Advisory Committee Seeks New Members

Central Counties Services (Center) Planning and Network Advisory Committee (PNAC) is now accepting applications for new members who are interested in issues around intellectual and developmental disabilities (IDD). PNAC is a diverse group of participants that include consumers, family members, providers and interested citizens.

Meetings are held every two months to identify community needs; provide input in planning, policy making, and services delivery system design. Members are charged with developing and presenting recommendations to Center Board of Trustees.

PNAC members:

- Uphold Center procedures regarding confidentiality; and
- Engage in constructive dialogue and offer creative solutions to problems.

How to apply

Current PNAC membership will review all applications that are submitted and recommend new members to the Board for subsequent approval. To get the application, call 254-298-7096 or email keith.maxwell@cccmhmr.org.

Be the Central Texas Community's voice at the Center!

Are you the ideal PNAC member?

Join us to find out.

The best way to know if PNAC is a good fit for you is to attend a meeting. We encourage at least one visit before applying for membership.

The PNAC meets every two months in September, November, January, March, May, and July. PNAC meetings are in the Center's Board Room, 304 South 22nd Street, Temple, Texas.
